A Message from the President

Welcome to our 91st Annual Vermont Professional Photographers Convention!

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve VPP and its membership for a second year during the 91st year of providing photography education to photographers all across our beautiful state. During my 14 years of membership, I have witnessed this organization support its members by strengthening their skills, growing their businesses, encouraging valurabilty in competition and making lifelong professional friendships.

There is an old story about a traveler that comes across three bricklayers. The traveler asks the first man, "What are you doing?" The bricklayer shrugs and says dryly, "I'm earning my wage." The traveler askes the second bricklayer, "What are you doing sir?" That man shrugs, "Me? I'm building a wall". Then the traveler asks the last bricklayer what he's doing. The man turns around, and with a huge smile and says, "Sir, I am building a marvelous cathedral."

Life is all about perspective.

The bricklayer story is still relevant today. Are you like the first bricklayer? -- Just doing what you have to do to make a living? Or are you like the second bricklayer -- working your business without a clear cut objective? Or are you like the third bricklayer -- that no matter what the circumstances are, you see the importance and possibilities in each thing we do?

Based on our mission statement, the purpose of our organization is to raise the standards of photography, both professionally and ethically and to create, foster, promote, and maintain cordial relations and exchange knowledge among its members. The VPP board is a lot like that 3rd bricklayer. We all share the vision of our mission statement and we know that our members do as well. We always hear from our members asking how they can contribute to this wonderful organization. This is a volunteer organization and everyone benefits when members get involved.

We all want photographers to reach their full potential. To do this, we need your help. If you are new to this organization, seek out older members. Ask questions. Learn from the masters, as you will become one soon. Enjoy the journey. If you have been with us for a while, introduce yourself to a new member. Invite them to educational opportunities. Be the third bricklayer. Help new members become one too.

Yours in Education,

Jonathan Adams, M.Ed., M.Photog.Cr., CPP

PPA National Award

The National Award is offered by the Professional Photographers of America to State, Regional, National & International affiliated organizations on a yearly basis. First made available in 1958, the award recognizes those persons who generously contribute their time and talents to the service of their profession, their affiliated organization, and their fellow photographers. Selections of the award are determined by the recipient's peers, which adds to its distinction and value.

The choice of the recipient is left to the individual state, regional, and national affiliates. It may be given to a member or non-member, to someone in or outside the field of professional photography. It need not be awarded every year if no suitable candidate is found. The award will be presented at the VPP's annual awards function.

The selection of a new recipient is made by the VPP National Award Committee which is composed of all living recipients of this award from the VPP.

2. Our fellow photographer's name and reputation shall be as sacred to us as our own.

3. No untrue or misleading statements shall be made, in any way, in any form, in business promotions.

4. It shall be our duty to impart freely of our knowledge so that photography among our members may be raised to higher standards.

5. It shall be our duty, individually, to strive to serve the public to the very best of our ability in all matters pertaining to photography.

President Elect Message

As I considered my first communication to you as your President, I keep coming back to two simple words – Thank you. Your energy, spirit and dedication to VPP and each other makes me very excited and humbled to lead this awesome group for 2020. I remember when I first joined VPP 11 years ago, I was the quiet one sitting in the back of the room feeling overwhelmed with the amount of information and education that was available to me. As I got to know more of our members and felt how accepting and giving they are, I began feeling like part of this VPP family. Through the past years I have made some good friends here and have met so many wonderful speakers throughout the years as Education Chair.

Some members that helped mentor me and many others, have left our organization due to various life circumstances. They, having spent many years and countless hours at our side sharing their experience and education and have left VPP with history for us to grow on, I am thankful everyday for having the honor of walking this path. As we continue to welcome new members to our organizations, I am very excited to work beside each one, learn from them and gain new friendships. Each member has something very special to share. That is what makes us who we are!

In past years, we have been fortunate to have had some amazing speakers. Now, as we enter into a new decade, my hope is to make 2020 even better! We have great momentum going, but I can't do this without each and every one of you. As your President, I will be counting on your feedback, your suggestions, and your involvement to carry on the continued success of our group. My hope is that no one feels alone and that we all spend some extra time reaching out to one another. Having fantastic speakers and workshops is an amazing opportunity available to us all, and having everyone's friendship, support and respect is what we are all about.

Your President-Elect,

Natascha Dacres

12 Elements of a Merit Print

Impact	What you see first. What holds your eye. What demands your attention. What commands you to look.
Creativity	Originality. A fresh approach.
Style	Creative subject, cropping, design, invention, feeling, etc.
Composition	Your style reflects your vision. Artistic expression and uniqueness of execution Harmonious arrangements. Placement of subject matter. Using dynamic symmetry to place the most important objects within a space. Good rhythm is created by repetition, whether it is color, space, lines, moods, or divisions of the photograph.
Presentation	Dare to be different. The presentation enhances the photograph. Does the cropping add to the composition? Does the matting and mounting compliment and support the image?
Color Balance	Creative use of color - examples: complimentary colors, dark against light, strong against weak. Interpretive, primary, secondary, tertiary, aggressive and receding colors.
Center of Interest	Subject matter holds the eye. The main subject is arranged so that one center of interest prevails. Secondary points are also important to the photograph, but shouldn't be distracting.
Lighting	Lighting is the art of photography. It creates the mood, reproduces the characteristics of the subjects, and makes a statement. Good directional lighting is essential. Without it, photography lacks strength and definition.
Subject Matter	Interpretation of the subject matter. Selection of the subject. Treatment can be very creative: young and old, warm and cool. The camera angle for the subject is important.
Print Quality	Details in the highlights and shadows. Using the middle tones. Good color balance. Good strong contrast. Background in key with the subject.
Technique	Technique is the foundation of creative photography. How well all the elements are assembled and combined. Different treatments for the subject matter. Knowledge of art principles is important. Breaking the rules can be a good technique only if the follow through is purposeful with forethought.
Story Telling	Every picture should tell a story and be able to be understood in just a moment or two. The reason for the photograph and the statement it is making. The achievement of a purpose helps build an emotional response which challenges the viewers imaginations and views.
